

Saving the Past

by

Shelley Chester

Four very successful Hollywood stars return to the theatre that gave them their start only to discover it has been boarded up. Madge, Helene, Eileen and Cora break in to toast the memory of J.W.

Lawrence the man who gave them their start. As the cork is popped, police arrive to arrest the women. The Historic 110-year-old Harvey Lawrence Theatre is slated for the wrecking ball. It is a race against time to prevent the Harvey from becoming yet another condo.

Fainting, gun shots, begging, handcuffs, protests, reporters, dancing, singing and hope ensue. With Abbott Development holding the deed and Cora's son Chris the winning bidder to tear down the Harvey, who will be victorious in Saving the Past?
